Dear NCS families

I am writing to you today to emphasize the importance of punctuality in your child's academic success. We understand that sometimes unexpected circumstances arise that may cause your child to be late for lessons. However, persistent lateness can have a negative impact on your child's learning experience and disrupt the classroom environment.

When students arrive late for lessons, they miss valuable instruction time and may struggle to catch up on the material they have missed. Furthermore, arriving late can disrupt the class and cause a distraction for both the teacher and other students.

We want to ensure that your child has the best possible academic experience, and punctuality is a key component of this. We ask that you please make every effort to ensure that your child arrives to class on time each day. This may involve a conversation about lateness or going over your child's timetable with them.

We understand that some families may be facing persistent difficulties with punctuality. If this is the case, please do not hesitate to reach out to us. We are here to support you and your child and work together to find a solution that works.

Thank you for your cooperation and support in ensuring that your child is able to fully benefit from their education.

Best wishes

E Du-Prat
